Jamboree Cost

The current estimated Jamboree contingent member cost is $2,200. The Council Jamboree committee does their best to deliver value when planning for the Jamboree, however, there are costs that are beyond the control of the Jersey Shore Council. For example, transportation contracts cannot be signed until much closer to the actual Jamboree departure date and prices may change. Costs may also be affected if the Jamboree contingent of one- and one-half Troops is less than full.

Participants will be provided a payment schedule. Failure to comply with financial obligations may cause the participant to be moved onto a waiting list. It is important that this schedule be followed so that the Council can meet its financial commitments related to the Jamboree. Jamboree scholarships may become available and information will be provided at a later date.

Refunds

Planning the Jamboree is very detailed. Payments for the Jamboree, transportation and related costs are made months before the actual trip and are often non-refundable. Fees paid are refundable until the Jersey Shore Council begins making payments towards the participants Jamboree experience. A refund is then equal to the total fees paid by the participant minus expenses related to contractual agreements made on the participants' behalf. If another Scout is available from the alternate list to take a dropouts' place, a full refund will be made upon the alternate paying up to date with his fees. Fees paid by alternates who do not make it onto the contingent roster are 100% refundable. Refund requests must be made in writing.

Jamboree Unit Meetings and Shakedown

Once formed, each Jamboree unit will schedule regular meetings to plan for various aspects of the Jamboree and to keep Scouts and parents informed. Attendance at these meetings is required.

Prior to the Jamboree the council will conduct a shakedown. This event is to provide Jamboree units with required pre-Jamboree training and to prepare participants for the Jamboree experience. The exact date, times, and location will be provided at a later time. Attendance at the Jamboree Shakedown is mandatory.

Jamboree Codes of Conduct

Both a 2023 Jamboree and Jersey Shore Council Code of Conduct will be provided outlining participant expectations and requirements. Above all else, the Scout Oath and Law guide Jamboree participation. Failure to follow the rules outlined in each Code of Conduct may result in a participant being dismissed from the Jamboree contingent and the Jamboree at their own expense under parent/guardian supervision. Dismissal is not grounds for a refund.
